

DreamWalker Life

DreamWalker Life is about accepting your own mastery. This intense workshop is for those who are ready to move into embodied ascension and truly want to celebrate life here on Earth. The terms ascension and enlightenment might have been overused in the past. But Adamus fills these words in his own way with new and timely contents and clarifies, that there really is the potential for everybody to ascend while staying in the body.

Throughout history there have been relatively few humans who have realized their enlightenment in the body. But now is the first time in the new energy that an entire group of humans have consciously chosen to step into their mastery.

Adamus Saint-Germain goes deep into the challenges and joys of embodied enlightenment, why you've waited until now for your realization and talks about his own story of realization. He also addresses the limitations of being a human on Earth, and how to go beyond them. Other topics are the New Earth, the crystal flame of transfiguration, multidimensionality and conscious creation, your new body and new mind, and living in grace.

Adamus invites the students to make the leap into their own realization of the "I Am" within and leads through several Merabhs and a Quantum Allowing. A Merabh is a shift of your energy and consciousness level without effort, accompanied by music.

Quantum Allowing is similar to a Merabh but even more intense and goes far beyond the mind.

DreamWalker Life has thrilled us from the first minute and we have really enjoyed this class. This workshop is different from other schools due to several intense Merabhs with the beautiful music of Yoham. We also love the way Adamus leads the attendees through this class with a lot of compassion and humor. DreamWalker Life gets you into the energy of wanting to live life as a sovereign embodied master and offers a lot of support for this choice and the life beyond.

Even if you have attended a DreamWalker Life event which was presented live by Geoffrey and Linda Hoppe you will be touched by this class. This workshop will be a different and stunning experience.

This is the fourth part of the DreamWalker series. Attending a prior DreamWalker School (Death, Birth or Ascension) is not required for DreamWalker Life. Participating in the Sexual Energies School and Aspectology beforehand may enhance the experience of this workshop.

Seminar language is German, also English if necessary. The workshop includes channeled sessions from Adamus Saint-Germain. The channels are on DVD in English language with German subtitles. Each participant will receive a transcript in German (or alternatively in English on request).
